

ONLY ONE DEMOCRAT FILES FOR STATE REP.

Only one Democrat, incumbent Representative Tim Donahue of Woburn, has filed papers for nomination to the office of State Representative, from the Wilmington-Woburn-North Reading and Reading area.

Interest is lacking, in the Democratic fold, for the State Rep's job, but hardly any more than is Republican interest lacking in the State Senator's position.

For Representative three candidates have filed in the Republican party nomination race - Rep. Frank Tanner of Reading and two other Reading men, Moderator Kenneth C. Latham, former Chairman of the Board of Selectmen, and for 15 years a member of that board, and Atty William L. Smith, a newcomer to the political field.

State Senator

Only two Republicans have made known their intentions of filing for nomination by the Republican party, for Senator in the newly constituted 7th Middlesex District.

The District today comprises the City of Woburn, and the towns of Lexington, Burlington, Billerica, Tewksbury, Wilmington and North Reading.

Edward Lombard of North Reading, and Mike Tomyl of Billerica seem to be the only Republican candidates for the nomination.

The Democrats, on the other hand, are after the post now held by State Senator James Long of Woburn, with two Wilmington Democrats in the running, and at least one from Burlington.

Newcomer Leo McCormack of Grove Avenue pulled a surprise by filing with the Wilmington Board of Registrars for State Senator, contending against Harold McKelvey of South Wilmington who filed last week.

In Burlington Selectman Charles Shea has filed for the same nomination, and as all the towns in the area have yet to be completely checked there may still be other men looking for the Democratic nomination.

Wilmington Nominations

Last minute filings in Wilmington, received Tuesday, were for John Droney, (D) for District Attorney, Edward L. Buckley (D) for County Treasurer, Rocco Antonelli (D) for County Treasurer, and Sam Pollard, former Mayor of Lowell, for the Democratic nomination for Congress.

PALMER LAND TO BE OFFICE BUILDING SITE

Douglas Palmer, 124 West St. has sold his home and land (2 1/4 acres) and is soon to move to Forrest Street, after 28 years in the same home.

The land has been purchased by the Technical Equipment Co. which now has offices in the Tambone Building in Reading.

The company plans to build an office building on the hill behind the Palmer house. Construction may start within 3 weeks.

Caleb Pierce of Reading handled the real estate transaction.

LITTLE LEAGUERS OUT OF PENNANT RACE

Wilmington's Little League All Star Team lost, yesterday evening, to the Sudbury All Star Team by a score of 6 to 3 in a game in which there were many errors.

Mark Peters hit a homer for Wilmington.

The defeat of the Wilmington team, at the Semi-Finals, eliminates them from any further pennant play in Little League this year. Sudbury is to play the winner of the No. Reading-Wakefield game, in Ferullo Park, Woburn, at 2 pm Saturday for the District 15 Championship.

Wilmington 7 A.V. 4

Using two shortstops for a battery, the Wilmington Little League All Stars defeated the Assabet Valley All Stars 7 to 4, Monday afternoon, in a game that was marked by fielding errors because of the wet grass.

Mark Peters, Yankee Shortstop and Robert Finney, Indian Shortstop did a magnificent job as pitcher and catcher.

Peters, who has a fast ball and a drop curve scored 14 strikeouts and walked 4. His opponent, Kelin, had 11 strikeouts and walked 10.

Wilmington scored five hits and Assabet Valley (Maynard and Stow) two. Don White and Paul Theriault scored two singles, each, and Mark Peters had the fifth hit, also a single.

LAWRENCE DEMOCRAT DECLARES FOR CONGRESS

Thomas J. Chiara of Lawrence, visiting Wilmington Tuesday, announced that he was a candidate for the Democratic Nomination for Congress in the newly re-constituted 5th District.

Mr Chiara's pledge is for a limited government and a reduction in government spending, a more productive government through individual incentive, and an end to Government Competition with private enterprise.

His education includes the Bullis Naval Preparatory School, Tufts College, Harvard College, and Boston University School of Business Administration.

He was awarded five combat stars in the US Army and was personal interpreter to Brig. Gen. Rose during the invasion of Sicily, and later a translator for the Allied Commission in Naples and Rome.

While at Tufts he starred in football, and was wrestling champion for two years, and in 1933 and 1934 was a member of the undefeated Lawrence State Championship football team.

He is the owner of the Chiara Cheese Co. Inc of Lawrence.

His organization affiliations include the Italian Charitable Society, the Order of the Sons of Italy, and a Director of St. Francis Seminary Guild.

ELECTION LAWS ARE CHANGED

All election contributions or expenditure of $50 or more for every political aspirant - even for Selectmen, School Committee and Housing Authority, must be accounted for, to the state, according to a new election law Town Clerk Esther Russell received last week from Kevin H. White, state secretary.

The statute specifically requires that names and addresses of individuals, trust funds or corporations contributing $50 or more to the campaign of any candidate must be listed with the exact amount of the contribution.

All expenditures for the campaign over this amount must be listed.

In addition every candidate must file within 30 days after the election an aggregate balance sheet of income and expenses if that amount is over $50, or the candidate must sign an affidavit stating his election expenses did not exceed that total.

Local candidates must file with the Town Clerk. Candidates for county, state and national positions must file (cont. on Pg. 3)

THAT'S THE WAY THE BALL BOUNCES

Last fall Wilmington High School had a football team that was certainly worth boasting about. It won the Championship, and the people of Wilmington, abetted by George Spanos and friends, sent the team to Washington, as a sort of belated Thanksgiving Day present, with Congressman Brad Morse doing personal honors for the boys and the girls of the Cheerleader Squad.

Since then we have had a pretty good track team, and the finest baseball team in twenty years, at least.

Our baseball team, the creation of Joe Gilligan, went all the way to the top - to the Eastern Mass Championships, and that's something to write home about.

So what happened?

Nothing.

Frankly, it's tough to do something for the boys, just as the school season is closing for the year. Everyone is scattering off, and it is probably true that the entire team will never again be able to be assembled in one spot.

We would have liked to see a little recognition given to the team as a whole, but we probably never will. That's the way the ball bounces.

SEEK FUNDS FOR AUXILIARY POLICEMEN

Frank Mango Jr., of Patricia Circle, Linwood Wentzell of Swain Road and Civil Defense
Director, Rene La Rivee, Monday night, made a request of the Board of Selectmen that funds be made available in the next town budget for the establishment of an Auxiliary Police Department, under Civil Defense auspices.

La Rivee made it clear to the Selectman that he was acting as a 'co-ordinator', that part of the funds for uniforms would be 'mat hing funds' with 50% supplied by the Federal Government, and that about 25
Auxiliary Policemen were contemplated, of which about five are now ready.

There would be five districts in town, La Rivee said, with five Auxiliaries in each district. He estimated the cost of equipping men at $150 each,
or $75 for the town.

GARDEN TYPE APARTMENTS DISCUSSED BRIEFLY

Garden type apartments, such as are now being built in Lo-burn and Stoneham, were discussed briefly this week by the Selectmen and Planning Board.

Selectman Nicholas De Felice
spoke up in the Selectmen's meeting, saying that he was, in effect, in favor of such apartments, and naming a few places where they could be built.

Selectman Brooks recalled he had talked with some individuals on the Planning Board, and promised to see that board
again, which he did Tuesday night.

Chairman Bob Evans of the Planning Board told Brooks that a sub-committee was 'working on the subject' but that no report had been made as yet.

TOWN NOTES

Why Go to Maine?

This has been, so far, one of the most delightful summers in years, with very few scorches to mar things.

Most of the time the temperature is in the 70's, and occasionally in the 60's.

Saturday through Tuesday we had a total of .88 inches of rain, which almost, but not quite breaks the drought.

Red Fox

The bread and bakery deliveries, at the DeMoulas Super Market, are being made a little later in the morning than formerly.

Several bakeries delivered their product in back of the store, generally about 5 am.

A little red fox discovered the fact, and began to have a free breakfast delivered on a regular schedule.

Result: Later delivery, by request; and one disappointed fox.

In Tow

Interesting things are always happening in town, one way or another.

For instance, the TM went uptown to Wilmington Square Monday, with Chairman John Brooks of the Board of Selectmen, to inspect the work on the Burlington Avenue Bridge.

The Town Crier got several calls as a result, all of them commenting about 'the first time'. One of our informants stated Cecil was 'in tow'.

Anyway, he inspected the bridge.

No Poison

The Town Crier had a good reason for not dashing up to get a picture of Cecil at the Bridge, as some of our readers suggested, because at the same time we had a call from Camp Forty Acres.

It seems that it was nature
Day, for the Camp Fire Girls, and one of the girls had eaten a mushroom. The Town Crier was called on to tell whether or not said mushroom was poisonous.

It wasn't.

Anticipating Catfish

Back in the days of the un-lamented Gravel War, when the state was building Route 93,
one of the illegal gravel pits became a series of small ponds which we have visited many times, when in search of a little solitude.

We are not going to identify the place, for several reasons, other than to say it is in Wilmington.

When operations ceased the place resembled an imaginative
scene of Mars, or the Moon,
with piles of unwanted clay
between a series of ponds.
All was sterile. There was no life.

Little by little there have been changes - the first weeds appeared shortly after the place was deserted, small trees and shrubs have begun to grow, and aquatic life has invaded the ponds.

In the past year we have identified pickerel, crayfish, blue gills, perch, and three species of frogs, all of which came up a small stream, very small, which flowed through the area before the war began.
Last year we spotted, in one of the larger ponds, a cloud,

in the water.

That cloud grew in size, as the weeks passed, and gradually worked its way upstream, from one pond to another. It was finally identified as a school of baby catfish (horn-pout) - thousands of them.

Their life, last summer, was an interesting exhibit of the ways of wild life. They could be seen plainly, for there were very few weeds in which they could hide, and the bottom was quite clear.

Gradually they worked their way from one pond to the next, via the shallow connecting streams, until in August they were in the uppermost pond.

Then, one day, just as the connecting stream was about to dry up for the season, they began to work their way downstream, and in turn they vacated each pond the day before the connecting stream dried up - a marvelous display of instinct or intelligence - we know not what to call it.

This year, in these same ponds, we have discovered what is apparently mother catfish 'mothering' their little ones. They will be in very shallow water, with the young ones swimming around the parent. There is no doubt of the protection being offered, and received.

But more than that, we have in the past week been watching a pair of catfish, hatching a nest of eggs.

Both are in a sandy pond, and can plainly be seen. In the same pond are many bluegills, quite unsophisticated, who regard an intruding human curiously, and make no attempt to flee, unless a shadow should fall across them.

The catfish, about seven inches long, have a nest under a projecting piece of clay. One is slightly smaller than the other - we assume it is a female, and the other a male.

If a human approaches they warily flee for a few moments, very gracefully swimming along the bottom, but soon return, and one will disappear beneath the projecting piece of clay, soon to return to sight.

The purpose is to keep a current of fresh water flowing over the nest of eggs.

Generally it is the fish we assume to be the female who will stand guard over the nest with fins and body constantly undulating, to keep water moving, but occasionally the male takes over the duties.

In either case the other fish is always present, an excellent example of solicitude and care for its mate.

And we don't think those fish should be disturbed - that's why we are not telling where they are.

One of these days we hope to report a blessed event for Mr and Mrs Catfish.

Still Very Good

The waters of Silver Lake continue to be excellent for swimming.

The 'bug' count at the Town Beach Monday was 39, and at McQuaid's (Baby Beach) was 460 with 2400 being the point at which waters become unsafe.

Gung Ho!

Some time ago we reported in this column that the wrong street sign had been put up, at Lipp Street, in North Wilmington.

It's still there, and the residents like it, so much so that they are talking about asking the Town Meeting to change the name of their street, rather than to change the street sign.

But over on what used to be Swain Road West it's a slightly different matter.

The Town Meeting voted to change the name of the street to Congress Street.

The new Street Sign says Congress Street.

ELECTION LAWS

with the secretary of state. Penalty for refusing to abide with the new law is a fine up to $500 or a six-months jail sentence.

Presidential Elections

Another new election law requires only 32 days residence in Massachusetts before a new voter can qualify to vote in presidential elections. Heretofore the requirement was a six month residence.

As far as state and local elections are concerned, a new resident must have lived in Massachusetts for a year, and in Wilmington for six months before he can register to vote.

There are 69 new laws or revisions of existing statutes which pertain to elections.

the AV team, scored a homer in the fifth, over the rightfield fence, for one of the two hits. Danny O'Connell, leading the batting order for Wilmington, was walked three times, and scored the first run, being batted in by Peters.

Bobby Swan, playing right field, easily took in two flies, for two putouts.

The game started half an hour late, because of the wet field and was almost called on two occasions, as light rain began to fall, but in each case it was only a short sprinkle.

The brave and hardy men who umpired the game between two teams of Little League Ladies, Sunday, had far different attitudes towards their job. Above Joe Paglia, umpiring at the plate, was all business, even if there was a pie plate on his back, one side of which said 'Good Umpire' and the other side 'Bad Umpire.'

It was there so that the ladies could register their approval or disapproval of his judgments. Millie Arzilli of the Twisters has just connected for a foul ball. The ball can be seen just beyond the tip of the bat.

RICKIE HAS SIGNED WITH THE RED SOX

RICKY WITH MOTHER AND DAD

A photograph taken in the Proton home, on Middlesex Avenue, after news of Ricky's signing with the Red Sox. To the left is his mother Mary, and to the right his dad Burt.

Wilmington's Rickie Proton has signed up with the Red Sox Boston papers, Sunday, gave a prominent display to the story which had been reported earlier on radio. Ricky will report to Waterloo, Iowa, for next year's season.

The best pitcher in 20 years, if not for all time, in Wilmington, Rickie made a record of 23 wins and 3 losses while playing on the High School nine, in three years.

He is now pitching for the Woburn City Club, in the Carling Intercity League. The club is in second place, and Ricky has a score of 6 - 1 - 1 for the season.

A husky 18 year old, Rickie is a member of an old Wilmington family, his grandparents having moved here from Nova Scotia before 1900.

His father, Bert, well known, played baseball for Wilmington High School, as a catcher, in 1921, when Nelson Mixer was High School Principal, and both football and baseball coach.

Rickie began his baseball career with the Little League Indians, and very quickly became the star pitcher in Little League.

Although the Indians did not win the pennant that year, Rickie played in the All-Star team, losing to Winchester in the third round 3 - 0. Winchester went on to play in the national finals at Williamsport, and defeated other teams by a 10 - 0 score, before finally losing in the finals.

Ricky was also a pitcher for the Pony League Wildcats, the year the Wildcats won the pennant.

This year, of course, he was the star pitcher of Wilmington's High School nine, overshadowing by his extreme ability other good pitchers who, in ordinary years would have been hailed for their work - such men, for example, as Jeff Williamson, now also pitching for the Woburn City Club.

Ricky is happy to be with the Sox. He had other offers, but accepted the local one, because he thinks the management is better with the Boston team. The Red Sox contract had eliminated Ricky from the Hearst Sand Lot team, where he was scheduled to pitch another game against Barry Needham of Randolph, the winning pitcher in the Eastern Massachusetts Finals this year.

Sometime early in 1963 Ricky will pack his bags, and be off to a career of professional baseball - and the heart of Wilmington will be with him.

SOUTH AMERICAN LEGISLATOR VISITS WILMINGTON

Senator Rafael Blanco, 72 year old legislator of the Republic of Columbia is a visitor at the home of his son, Rafael Blanco Jr., 9 Clark Terrace, where he is to be a Guest for the next 10 days.

Mr Blanco has a distinguished career in his native city of Baranquilla, Columbia.

Educated in New York City, where he studied at the University of New York, he returned home and became the owner of a rubber factory in his native town.

His activities included working with the Chamber of Commerce, and he eventually became President of the Chamber of Commerce, a post he held for 10 years.

Columbia has two political parties, the Liberals and the Conservatives, and in 1938 Mr. Blanco was elected Governor of the State of Atlantico, of which Baranquilla is a part.

After serving for seven years as a Governor he retired from public life, but in 1946 he was again elected, this time as a Senator to the Congress of Columbia.

During his 45 - 50 years of public life Senator Blanco founded the University of Atlantico, The Fine Arts College of Baranquilla, a Manual Arts School, and the Baranquilla Public Library, and was instrumental in starting a street paving program which has since been completed.

Baranquilla is today one of the finest cities in Columbia, and a show-place to the world.

The Senator was a guest at a party held in his honor last Saturday, at which were relatives and friends from Florida including Mr and Mrs Norman Perry, and Mrs Caroline Neilson, and daughter Sylvia.

The Blanco family moved to Reading six months ago, from Columbia, when Rafael Jr. was hired by a Melrose rubber laboratory. They have since moved to the home on Clark Terrace.

Mrs Rafael Blanco Jr is a member of the Wilmington Bedell family, although she had never lived in Wilmington prior to moving here recently.

SELECTMEN TURN DOWN SPORTSCAR GYMKHANA

A request to hold a sportscar gymkhana, by the Sportsmen's Sport Car Club of Boston, on the Demoulas property, on August 12th has been denied by the Board of Selectmen.

The Selectmen were visited Monday night by two members of the club, who said it was a convenient place, that the operation is strictly controlled, and consists of skill driving, with speeds rarely over 30 mph.

The request was denied because the Selectmen had had reports of 'noise' from a previous similar event, on motion of Mr. De Felice.

LIGHT SHED ON ST THOMAS LAND CLAIMS

Atty John Gartland, representing the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Boston, Tuesday night told the Wilmington Planning Board that the land claimed by an abuttor to old St Thomas Church, Atty Tim Kane, was offered to be sold by the church to a previous owner of Kane's property, in 1951.

Tom Sparks made a payment of $700 for the land, Gartland said, but then had to report for military duty, and withdrew his offer, and the money was returned.

Gartland exhibited a plan made in 1951 when the Archdiocese was going to sell the land to Sparks. It agreed, he said, 'with possibly small exceptions' with the property that Atty Kane is claiming as his own, in Land Court proceedings.

Atty Gartland attended the Planning Board meeting for the purpose of having plans made for the Land Court signed by the Wilmington Planning Board.

In other information which he gave, during the conversation with the Board, Atty Gartland stated that in 1859 the land between the Nichols property and the property of Thomas E. Bond, now the site of the Baptist Church was sold by a George W. Thompson of Stratham, N.H. to Michael Carlin, who in turn sold the land to former Town Clerk James E. Kelley on March 6, 1899.

Mr. Kelley personally gave the deed to Archbishop John J. Williams, for a church, instead of making out a new deed because he felt that the town needed a Roman Catholic church instead of having Mass in the McMahon property across the street.

DELAY ACTION ON GARAGE LICENSE PENDING REPORT

The Board of Selectmen, Monday night, read a report from the Building Inspector which said that the exits under the main floor of the garage at the corner of Shawshen Ave and Main Street do not 'conform', and requested an approval to order the floor vacated.

There is at present two large garage doors and another. The Building Inspector wants two other doors.

On suggestion of the Chairman action was delayed pending a report from the Town Counsel who is considering a brief submitted by Atty Roland Wood on the situation.
